

Thanks For Victory Theme Of Services Over The Weekend

Newmarket ministers generally reported a full congregation for Thanksgiving services in the churches here. The services shared a common theme of thanksgiving that the war was over and that veterans were returning from overseas.

Rev. G. A. Stone at St. Paul's Anglican church led his congregation in thanks for "the goodness and mercy of God in returning so many to the homes they left to go overseas". The communion service was the central theme of the Anglican service with Mr. Stone taking both services. Next Sunday is the Harvest Thanksgiving service at St. Paul's.

Rev. C. M. Bellsmith preached at both services in the Pentecostal Tabernacle, laying stress on the abundance of blessings for which to give thanks. He spoke of the end of the war, the satisfaction of needs for food and clothes and the many advantages Canadians had. In the evening service, he took as his text, Thanks Be Unto God For His Unspeaking Gift.

An early mass was offered in thanksgiving for victory at St. John's Roman Catholic church by Father W. D. Muckle on Monday morning. A joint thanksgiving service was sponsored by the Holy Name Society in Maple Leaf Gardens Sunday which was attended by many from Newmarket.

Rev. A. B. Stein took as his subject in the Christian church the thought that "Christ is the greatest example of thanksgiving". He said that where human beings looked backwards in giving thanks, Christ had looked

RETURNS HOME

C.S.M. Bruce Donald Andrews, son of William Andrews, Timothy St., returned home from overseas over the weekend after being overseas since 1942. He enlisted with the Irish Regiment and saw action with that unit. Prior to going overseas he was an instructor at the Newmarket military camp. He married Anna Duffin, Aurora, before going overseas.

Hallowe'en Program Planned In Arena

A special meeting of the appointed representatives of town organizations has been called for Monday night at 8 o'clock in the council chambers to discuss a proposed Hallowe'en program for children and adults in the Memorial Arena.

Last week, Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales laid before a special meeting of the council a proposal that a community Hallowe'en party be organized in the arena with the view of eliminating excuses for destructive actions such as occurred last year by offering an attractive alternative in the shape of a stage show and party in the arena.

Members of the council favored the plan and it was decided to hold a meeting of the representatives of town organizations to enlist their aid in the project.

"It was proposed to make such a program a community project," Mayor Dales declared. "It is hoped that the various organizations will contribute talent to the program and help in its organization. A tentative three-hour show in the form of a masquerade has been mapped out and will be presented at the meeting for approval and suggestions."

"It is hoped that such a Hallowe'en party can become a permanent affair. The support of every citizen is requested towards that end. This is only one of the various items your council is planning for the employment of the talents of our children and adults and giving all a planned entertainment eventually the year round."

The mayor asked that representatives from the following organizations attend the meeting: Newmarket Veterans' Association, Women's Institute, high and public school boards, Lions club, Boy Scouts, Air Cadets, army camp, Red Cross Association, Ministerial Association, all church and sport organizations and any other citizens who will assist and support the plan.

THREE YEARS OVERSEAS

Pte. D. T. Clarkson, son of Mrs. W. Clarkson, Timothy St., returned home last Monday from three years overseas where he served in Italy, France, Germany and Holland.

Ninth Victory Loan Drive Opens Oct. 22, Objective Is Raised

The Ninth Victory Loan will open Oct. 22 and close Nov. 10. There has been no official objective set for Newmarket and district as yet but indications are that it will exceed the previous loan objective of $2,500,000.

Aubrey Davis has again accepted the chairmanship of the North York district and in a statement issued today stated that he had every confidence in the district achieving its objective even though it may be higher than ever before.

"I call on every citizen in the loan district to do his utmost in making the loan a success," he stated. "Although the war is over, its effects will continue to be felt for many years. It is to help alleviate these effects that the loan is being floated. The money raised in this loan will be used to help our fighting men return to civil life, for the payment of gratuities, for the essential work of holding down inflation."

"I am sure that if we all pull together, we can make this loan the most successful of any we have had. I am confident we will do it."

H. L. Trapp, loan organizer for the district, has named the following as loan salesmen: J. B. Bastedo, H. J. Luck, T. F. Doyle and C. C. Gamble, Newmarket; J. A. Clarke, R. Caldwell and A. M. Colville, Whitechurch; Percy Mahoney and C. Martin, N. Gwillimbury; M. Tremayne, Sutton; H. Pearson, R. Stewart, E. Wright and one other, E. Gwillimbury; F. E. Corner, A. E. Maughan and A. Gilbert, Aurora.

There will be a pre-loan dinner at Pickering College October 17 when Col. Edwin Albert Baker, managing director of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, will speak. Himself blind, Col. Baker has been in his present post for 23 years.

As part of the loan promotion, a purebred Ayrshire, Pedigree Leitchcroft-Scholar's Juliet 2nd will be given to the holder of a winning ticket. The tickets are being given out free at country fairs and local centres. The Ayrshire was donated by Master Feeds.

PINE ORCHARD CHURCH PAYS BUILDING DEBT

The annual congregational meeting of the Pine Orchard Union church was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Hope, Pine Orchard, on Tuesday evening. Seventy sat down to supper. After supper two reels of movies were shown.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Elmer Starr and Mrs. Frank Sheridan. Rev. R. R. McMath was elected chairman and Mrs. Ross Armitage, secretary of the meeting.

The report of the Willing Workers was read by Mrs. Ed. Johnson, Sunday-school by Stewart Starr, missions by Mrs. Elsie McClure, temperance by Mrs. Elmer Starr, auditors by Les Harper.

The financial report was read by James Hope, treasurer, and was voted as the best he ever had to give.

In spite of the fact that constant appeal was made for the building fund the Sunday offerings were far in excess of any other year and a decided increase on the previous year. A grand total of $4,000 was raised for the year.

Miss Helen Reid, treasurer of the building fund, reported that the new building had cost $2,850 to date and $460 remained as bank overdraft. On motion the hat was passed around the meeting and $520 were paid or promised so the indebtedness was wholly wiped out. The board was instructed to proceed with completing the basement.

Frank Sheridan, Edson Johnson and James Hope were elected to the official board for two years. The minister spoke in glowing terms of the support of officials and people had given during the year. On motion by Earl Toole and Elma Starr, expressions of appreciation were tendered the minister and his wife after a vote of thanks to host and hostess of the evening. The singing of the Doxology and Benediction brought the meeting to a close.

Appeal Denied Publisher In Era-Express Hearing

In a judgment handed down by Mr. Justice Gillanders at Osgoode hall yesterday, an appeal court consisting of Chief Justice Robertson and Justices Laidlaw and Gillanders upheld the decision of Mr. Justice Hogg in dismissing an action brought by A. O. Hebb, co-owner of The Newmarket Era and Express Ltd., against W. P. Mulock, co-owner, and the company.

In the suit Mr. Hebb sought to have the action of two of the three directors of the company transferring 25 key shares to Mr. Mulock set aside.

In an amalgamation of The Newmarket Era, owned by Mr. Hebb, and The Newmarket Express-Herald, owned by Mr. Mulock, it had been agreed that the value of the assets of the Era were worth $2,500 more than those of the Express-Herald and Mr. Mulock was to purchase 25 shares in the amalgamated company in The Newmarket Era and Express Co. Ltd., at $100 each within 18 months in order to make the division of the shares between the two equal.

This was agreed to in May, 1942, but it was 21 months before Mr. Mulock applied to buy the stock. On April 24, 1944, Mr. Hebb asked whether he should take control or sell out to Mr. Mulock. Mr. Mulock asked for the purchase of the 25 shares according to the agreement in June and the directors, Miss Beatrice Lyons, appointed by Mr. Mulock, and N. L. Mathews, K.C., who held one share in trust for each of the two major stockholders, voted to sell, being opposed only by Mr. Hebb's vote.

Setting aside the argument by the appellant that the directors exceeded their powers, Mr. Justice Gillanders commented that the directors acted in the interests of the company by upholding the object of the original agreement which stressed the importance of keeping a balance of control. Had Mr. Mulock been denied the right to buy the shares, Mr. Hebb would have had effective control of the company.

"It might strongly be argued," he concluded, "that to deny the application under all the circumstances could only be viewed as being in the interests of the appellant personally as opposed to the interests and objectives of the company."

DR. H. TEDDER TO SHOW FILMS OF FAR EAST

Dr. H. J. Tedder of Portland, Oregon, known universally as a preacher, author and world traveller who has done much observation work in the interest of the Christian church in many of the remote corners of the earth, will return to Newmarket on Friday evening to show 1,500 feet of motion pictures taken by himself while carrying on his work in Tokio, China, the Philippines, Borneo and India.

While conducting a four-day campaign in Newmarket last week, Dr. Tedder spoke of the work to which he had devoted a great deal of his time throughout Europe and the Orient. He expressed the conviction that throughout many of the countries overrun by the Axis there was a positive move toward vital Christian experience and away from formal religion. After speaking as long as three hours of Christ's ability to meet human need, the people would plead for more, said the speaker.

Dr. Tedder claimed that this great move toward Christ and the simple Gospel was hindered tremendously by the outbreak of war but claimed that the people will in the near future be manifesting their desire for this message now that the door is open for the spreading of the Christian message.

Convinced that there is no other solution for the ills of the world but the Gospel of Jesus Christ, Dr. Tedder had dedicated his life to travelling the world with this message, reaching into many remote corners of the earth where the message is seldom if ever proclaimed.

Dr. Tedder had made several trips into the frozen north without human companion or guide and is at present planning a trip above the Arctic circle in the winter of 1946. The purpose of this trip is to lay the foundation for extensive missionary work as far north as human habitation is found.

HUNTER-KING RITES OCT. 6

Ravenshoe United church was the setting for a pretty wedding Saturday, Oct. 6, when Evelyn King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William King, Keswick, became the bride of Kenneth Hunter, son of Mrs. W. P. Hunter and the late Mr. Hunter, Toronto. Rev. Gordon Lapp officiated.

For the occasion the church was beautifully decorated with evergreens and autumn flowers. Mrs. Raymond Hodgson, Leaside, cousin of the bride, played the wedding music. She wore Chinese rose crepe with corsage of roses.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was charming in a dress of white slipper satin with silk net fingertip veil with applique trim and headpiece fashioned on Mary Queen of Scots style. The veil was the one used by the groom's mother on her wedding day. The bride carried briarcliff roses. Miss Marion King was her sister's maid of honor. She was dressed in peach taffeta with matching headress and carried token roses. Miss Beth King made a dainty bridesmaid in baby blue taffeta. Her flowers were butterfly roses. Carol Boothby, cousin of the bride, was a winsome flower girl dressed in pink taffeta with net overdress. She carried a nosegay of mixed flowers.

The groom was attended by Donald Kerr, Toronto. Just before the bride party entered the church Miss Mary Carol Knights, cousin of the bride, sang O Perfect Love and during the signing of the register, All Joy Be Thine. She was attractively dressed in robin's egg blue taffeta with corsage of pink roses. The ushers were Lorne King and Lea Glover.

After the ceremony Mrs. Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. King received with the bride party. Mrs. King wore a dusky rose crepe dress with black hat and Mrs. Hunter chose turquoise crepe with black hat. Following the congratulations 75 guests sat down to a splendid luncheon catered for by the ladies of the church. The bride and groom left for a short motor trip through the Beaver Valley and around Georgian Bay. The bride travelled in a cherry rose wool crepe dress with black hat and accessories.

Ten And Half Of Clothes Shipped From Newmarket

A ton and a half of used clothing has been shipped from Newmarket to a clothing depot in Toronto this week. The clothing has been sent in by Newmarket householders as their contribution to the National Clothing Collection.

The market building is open from 12.30 p.m. to 5.30 p.m. where H. J. Luck has charge of the baling of the articles. The hours that the building is open have been extended in order to accommodate those who wish to send their clothes by way of their husbands on their way to work.

Two telephone numbers may be called for collection service. They are 505 and 114. A call to either of these numbers will bring a Boy Scout or Frank Bowser's truck to pick up the articles.

Members of the Women's organizations in town are taking turns of duty at the market building in the afternoons during the week where they are mending and sorting the contributions as they come in. This work is under the general direction of Mrs. W. A. McCaffrey, president of the Catholic Women's League.

A heavy contribution towards the drive was made by children who turned in bundles of clothing and in return received free tickets to a special Saturday morning show last week. The show was made available through Morley McPhee, manager of the theatre.

QUIET WEDDING AT CHRIST CHURCH

Christ Anglican church, Roche's Point, was the scene of a quiet wedding early Saturday evening, Sept. 29, when Helen Mary, youngest daughter of Mrs. Clara Brymer and the late Arthur Brymer, became the bride of Frederick Charles, youngest son of Deputy-Reeve and Mrs. Arthur D. Evans, both of Newmarket.

Helen Brymer was one of the original C.W.A.C. recruits having enlisted in 1941. She returned after nearly two years' service overseas late in July of this year. The groom, taken prisoner at Dipe, had served with the Royal Regiment with which he had enlisted in September, 1939.

They were married by Rev. J. T. Rhodes, B.A., rector of Christ church. The bride, wearing a queen's blue gown, moulded on princess lines, was given in marriage by her uncle, Roy Hunter. She was supported by Mrs. Clara St. John wearing a similar mauve gown. They carried brides' bouquets of white roses and maiden-hair fern. Stan. Evans, R.C.A.F., cousin of the groom, was best man. After the ceremony, amid a shower of confetti, the happy couple left for an extended motor trip to the Kawartha Lakes and Muskoka, and then home by the Caledon Hills. They will reside at 10 Queen St. W.

BOARD OF TRADE AN ASSET NOW

Newmarket was never more handicapped from the lack of a board of trade than it is now. An active board of trade or similar businessmen's organization would be in a position now to profit its members and the community as a whole.

Just one example of the value of a local businessmen's association is necessary to point this fact. In Midland, the board of trade of that town was able to interest and partly finance the construction of a shoe factory, employment in which would help ease the labor slack brought by a peacetime slow-down in the ship yards. There is every opportunity for such a service to be performed here by a similar organization.

It is no secret that the chairman of the industrial committee of the Newmarket town council, Joseph Vale, has been able to interest any number of industries in the advantages of locating in Newmarket. He has done considerable work in order to advertise this community as a site for industrial locations. No one can question the need for new industries here. Mr. Vale's efforts have been of great value to the town.

However, his work has been always limited by lack of factory space. He can interest industries in locating here but he cannot provide for them the floor space that they require. Nor can the town legally provide that factory space by constructing a building for that purpose. The town can provide the site and services; that is the limit of its endeavors.

A board of trade or similar organization could finance the construction of factory buildings through its membership as was done in Midland. There is sufficient capital in Newmarket which, if brought together, could easily finance a medium sized factory building. What is lacking is the leadership and unity which could be provided through a board of trade.

Mr. Vale and the members of his industrial committee continue to contact industries which would make suitable enterprises for a town of this size. They do their job when they bring interested parties into the town with the aim of locating here. The committee cannot be expected to do more. The provision of factory space is the responsibility of private capital. There will not be the opportunities there are now for many years. If Newmarket businessmen act now, they will profit and the community will profit. If these opportunities are ignored, every citizen in the town is the loser.

TO OPEN RURAL YOUTH CENTRE

The provincial minister of agriculture, T. L. Kennedy, has announced the taking over of an air school in Haldimand county for a rural youth community centre for supplementary education and other activities of junior farm men and women. The announcement states that it will be put into operation during the coming winter as "a community centre not only for educational work among junior farmers but for social, recreational and other activities."

The announcement says that the conversion of the air school into a rural youth education centre is the first step in a provincial plan to establish rural youth centres in all counties for both boys and girls. These centres would supplement the junior farmer program and emphasize practical training in agricultural and home economics. A condition of having a rural youth centre in a county was the pledge of full support for it from junior farmer groups as well as, in the case of this first centre, the support of the county council, the Women's Institutes, and the Haldimand Federation of Agriculture.

It is pointed out that the provision of such a centre in each county would be a severe strain on the provincial budget if done at once. For that reason, more centres will be created only from year to year. It is planned however to have junior farmer members from other counties visit Haldimand and report back to their home organizations.

There is an enthusiastic junior farmer movement in York county, which, if the Haldimand centre proves successful, will not hesitate in providing the necessary guarantees of support to such a centre in this county. An encouraging factor is the possibility that the facilities in the Newmarket military camp might be utilized as easily as apparently were those of the air school.

BATTLE OF INFLATION NOT YET WON

A pertinent reminder that the battle against inflation is not yet won is contained in a recent address by Donald Gordon, chairman of the wartime prices and trade board, in Regina. Mr. Gordon said:

"Premature removal of price and rationing controls or their breakdown due to lack of public support could lose us all that we have gained from the success of the stabilization policy to date. It is evident that the class of production which has been seriously restricted or eliminated because of wartime needs cannot possibly come suddenly back into the market in sufficient volume to prevent a serious rise in prices if price control were abandoned now. Even for many commodities whose production has not been reduced, demands are now so great that widespread price increases would be certain."

Inflation comes when there is no control over prices. If there was no control over prices, buying on the retail market would be like buying in an auction sale with the man paying the most getting the article. It wouldn't be long before the prices paid would far exceed the value of what was bought. The cost of living would increase. In order to meet the rising cost of living, it would be necessary to pay higher wages. The wage increases would be nullified by the increasing costs.

This endless circle is inflation. The retailer would get more for his product, but it would cost him more to buy it from the manufacturer. The wage earner would get a higher wage but it would cost him more to buy his food and clothes. There would be more money in circulation but it would have less real value. The process if unchecked would continue until money would have no value at all and the nation bankrupted.

We can all play a part in keeping prices at their real level and preventing inflation if we report all infringements on price ceilings and help break the black markets by not dealing on them. Black markets or sales which exceed price levels only exist if there are customers. If there were no customers, there would be no black markets. If everyone bought within the price ceiling, there would be no over-the-ceiling prices.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT THEM

We have heard considerable doubt expressed about the manner in which veterans of this war will react to their return to civil life. The comments have ranged from one extreme to another, from fear of civil turmoil to fear of military dictatorship. Needless to say, these comments have come from those not in uniform but in many cases, they have been prompted by wild statements from the odd serviceman.

At a recent gathering, we saw proof of how baseless such fears are. At the gathering were young veterans of this war, two who had been in the R.C.A.F., two who had been in the army, and one who had been a navy lieutenant. They were all young. They had all seen action. They had all experienced events that had matured them far beyond their years.

The gathering was in the nature of the first joint social event they had shared since their high school days yet despite the war years in between, there was little difference between then and now. The conversation was more intelligent, the interests more widely diversified. There was more poise and social consciousness than shown before. They played bridge when before they had played spin-the-bottle. Only the changes that time might normally have brought about were noticeable. Except for the occasional reference to their service, it was as if the war had not occurred.

All were going back to school or planning to do so, counting on their service gratuities to see them through. They were enthusiastic about their chances on the rugby team and very disparaging about each other's schools. They were full of plans to farm, to prospect, to do research, to set up their own businesses. They were full of hopes and ambitions. There was still a tenseness about them, some nervousness, a restlessness but it disappeared as they laughed and talked.

It shows a lack of faith in the democratic system and a misunderstanding of its values that there should be doubt about the return of the veterans. They were taught the deadliest ways by which to kill. They exercised that knowledge on the foe. They did so, however, not because they wanted to but because it was the only way to maintain the values which they cherished.

They killed with deadly seriousness because they were realists. They knew that in order to maintain the dignity and respect for human values on which democracy is founded they must first destroy the forces that menaced it. The job done, they ask now only to live by those tenets they fought to preserve.

REVISED BUILDING BY-LAW NEEDED

The building by-law for Newmarket was passed by the Newmarket town council in 1929. There has been one amendment to it, the repealing of a provision requiring a nominal fee for a building permit. A search through municipal by-laws shows that there is no other ordinance governing the erection of buildings in town outside of those issued through the Ontario fire marshal's office.

The 1929 by-law provides for a residential section in which no factory, trade or store may be located. It provides that buildings fronting Main St. be fireproof. It also states that no residences may be built within 20 feet of the street line.

The by-law is inadequate for present day needs. There will be unprecedented building in Newmarket in the coming years. Real estate agents and businessmen generally forecast considerable activity within the town in the next five years or so. The town council will keep abreast this expansion only if it revises the 1929 building by-law.

For example, the 1929 law makes no stipulation about the quality of the building materials used in a residence. Wartime shortages have exacted a severe strain on builders but not even wartime shortages excuse jerry-building. There is nothing in the 1929 building by-law to prevent the building of jerry-homes which in a couple of years have no more value than a stack of kindling wood and which are unsightly in appearance and the eventual beginning of a slum.

The 1929 building by-law does not stipulate a minimum distance between houses. The only provision for spacing is that which says no residence can be built within 20 feet of the street line. There is nothing more discouraging to the appearance of a residential area than to have the houses jammed together on narrow lots.

A revised by-law should further define the residential areas making provision for future park space and protecting the present park areas. An over-all plan should be drawn up in which the factory, residential, business and park areas are clearly marked out. This done, the town should adhere to it in its buying and selling of building lots.

Letter From Ottawa

By J. E. SMITH, M.P. York North

Interest here in Ottawa this week centres around the presentation of the budget which is scheduled for Friday. Necessarily a closely guarded secret, the contents of the budget will be known shortly after you read this letter. In our reception of the budget, I hope we all bear in mind that though the war is technically over, much that is of the war has had to be dealt with in this budget. We still have an army of occupation, thousands of troops still to be demobilized, gratuities to pay and a thousand and one other items still related to war. It is important we pass judgment on the coming budget in this perspective rather than in the light of a peacetime or even a reconversion budget. The next budget, which will be presented early in the next year, will be in tune with reconversion plans, peacetime economies and geared to the momentum of the post war era to a degree that cannot be expected of this one.

Finance Minister James Lorimer, now acting Prime Minister during the absence of Mr. King, who will present the budget Friday, is one of the outstanding men in Canadian public life. He has handled the finances of Canada during the hard and demanding years of war, directed price controls and the many ramifications of the wartime prices and trade board in a manner to earn the admiration and respect of Canadians irrespective of political affiliation. His achievements have indeed won international acclaim.

Canada is going to maintain a substantial navy, army and air force in post war years. This is indicated in defence estimates already before the house. It will not be a large force but it will be modern and up-to-date in every respect. There is general agreement that never must our defence organization and equipment lapse to the state, it sank between 1918 and 1939.

Bacon may become scarcer in the shops in North York. Agricultural Minister Gardiner announced in the House that we had received an urgent plea from Britain to increase our shipments. Britain asks that our promised 11,000 tons for October be increased by 3,000 tons and that there be a similar increase in November. Unless Canada can come through with this extra amount the bacon ration in Britain which now is three ounces per week will have to be reduced to two ounces. The situation has been brought about by Britain shipping in generous measure to the hunger-stricken countries in Europe. The food situation in Britain we are told here is the most serious since the outbreak of war. Agricultural Minister Gardiner's affirmative response to the British request and his appeal to the Canadian people to make the extra shipments possible received the unanimous support of all parties in parliament.

The appointment of Stanley G. Nelson as a member of the Civil Service Commission for Canada may not have attracted your notice in the press. It is worthy of note I think because Mr. Nelson's appointment was a merit promotion for a member of the civil service itself. In days of old an appointment to the civil service commission was looked upon as a political plum and appointments made accordingly. In return of course it was his duty to extract as many favors as possible for his own particular party. Mr. King's appointment of Mr. Nelson places the public service of Canada on the firm basis of merit, not patronage, a principle with which I feel sure the people of Canada agree.

In recognition of a publisher's trials in a week shortened by a holiday we do not want to make this letter too lengthy. We would like, however, to take this opportunity of thanking the newspaper publishers of North York for their kindness in printing this weekly letter by means of which we hope to retain closer contact with the people of the riding. Your weekly newspaper publisher renders outstanding and unselfish service to the community, service away and beyond that for which he ever receives monetary reward. So to the publisher of The Newmarket Era and Express, thanks and very best wishes.

THE COMMON ROUND

By ISABEL INGLIS COVILLE

MUSIC APPRECIATION

We hear a great deal these days about the value of music appreciation; that it should be taught in all schools; that it will open the door to a new world for children, enabling them to listen and enjoy intelligently any fine music they may hear.

To a certain extent, I agree with these hopeful ones. We all know that the music we learned as very little children is as fresh in our minds today as it was when first heard, far fresher than some learned later. What we learn as children about the great music of the centuries will in a great many cases have a place in heart and memory from which time and circumstances will be hard put to move it.

So many great compositions are built around a simple theme, and a child's ear can be trained to follow that theme through all its elaborations. It can be as much of a game as a contest. A child whose ear is keen and brain alert can learn a great deal this way about themes and subjects which may be of value when he comes to study harmony.

Take Bach's Fugues. It's as good as a game of hide and seek to follow melody and counter-melody in these quick-moving studies. I'm afraid I'll have to admit — with sorrow — that in some of the modern compositions even when played by Oscar Levant and other noted pianists, I cannot follow the trail — maybe because I can't find one to follow. No doubt the fault is in me — I am too old-fashioned to appreciate the strange harmonies — and so never find their beauty. Frankly speaking, I don't think some of them have any, and a child brought up on this music pabulum, would, in my estimation, live in a state of musical bewilderment.

Most of us love hymns and I think that children are especially susceptible to their simple dignity and charm, their singleness and the story they have to tell.

I can remember two which I dearly loved. "There's a home for little children above the bright blue sky." I can remember, as a child, when the sky was very blue, wondering what that home would be like, where little children, crowned, rested and played and waited for other little children to come.

The other was "Tender shepherd of Thy sheep, keep Thy lamb in safety, keep." I got it mixed up with the 23rd Psalm, and could see the gentle Shepherd of the Women's Institute, the proceeds for a new library.

Classifieds usually bring results.

herd leading little children like lambs, beside the still waters and in green pastures.

So music paints pictures and even a very small child can appreciate the Moonlight Sonata, and see the world of stream and forest bathed in a silver glow. A white road winds away into the distance and the sound of the smoothly flowing river is the only sound to break the beautiful stillness.

Music can rouse so many emotions, even in a child, religious, patriotic, tender and comic, for all children are quick to recognize comedy in music. It's worth a little effort on the part of parents to listen WITH children to fine music and together learn what it can add to the beauty of living.

MOUNT ALBERT MT. ALBERT CHURCH SCENE OF WEDDING
(Oct. 4)
Mount Albert United church, beautifully decorated with ferns, asters and daisies, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 29, when Rev. W. H. Burgess solemnized the marriage of Mina Oliver, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Oliver of Mount Albert, and Vernon Armstrong, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Armstrong of Stayner.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin fashioned with a yoke of embroidered sheer and long tulle veil arranged to a pearl embroidered headdress. She wore the groom's gift, a pearl necklace. Her shower bouquet was red roses and heather sent from her parents' home in Scotland. Helen Oliver attended her sister as bridesmaid in a pink lace over taffeta dress with matching chapel veil and carrying pale pink roses.

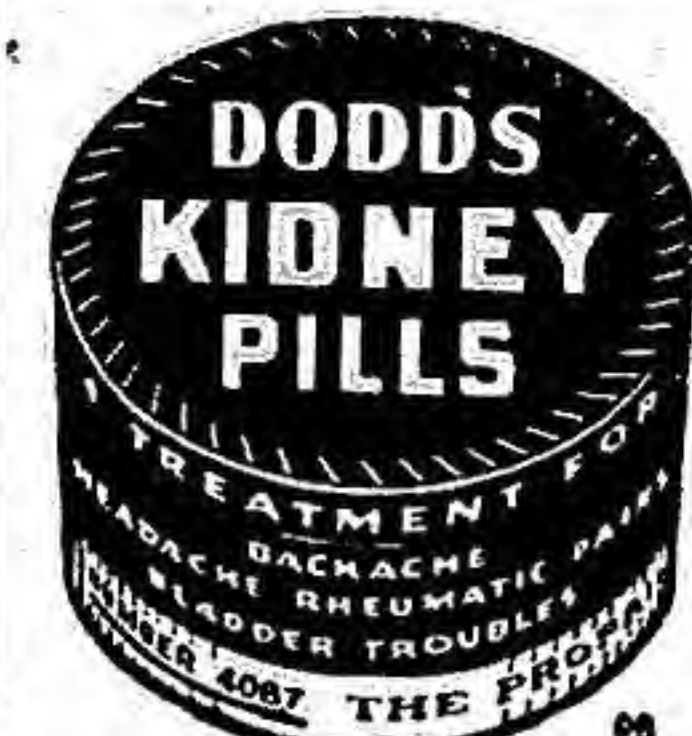

Kathleen Oliver as a junior bridesmaid was dressed in bouffant pink taffeta and carried a nosegay of pink roses. The groom was attended by William Mirreles of Toronto. Cecil Featherstone and Leo Cooper of Toronto were ushers. During the signing of the register Mrs. W. L. Carruthers sang Oh Promise Me, and Mrs. W. Couper presided at the organ.

Guests were received in the church parlors by the bride's mother in navy embroidered sheer with white accessories and a corsage of red roses and yellow gladioli and the groom's mother in British navy crepe suit with black accessories and corsage of yellow roses and pink gladioli. To travel in the bride donned a shepherd's plaid suit and raspberry wool top coat. On their return from a trip in western Ontario they will make their home in Toronto.

WE'LL HAVE THE MONEY to pay for

LIKE thousands of other Canadians, farmers will welcome the 9th Victory Loan as another opportunity to save money to provide for future plans.

Victory Loans have provided an excellent means of helping the war effort, at the same time contributing to our own personal welfare.

Canada needs more money now . . . to make loans to foreign countries so that they can establish credits which will enable them to buy food and other things which they require.

This food will come from Canadian farms; these goods from Canadian factories. When we help to create markets for our farm produce abroad . . . and when we help to keep Canadian factories busy . . . we help to maintain good prices for the things that Canadian farms produce.

Victory Bonds also provide a reserve fund of working capital for our own use . . . so handy to have so many times. Any bank will buy Victory Bonds at any time, or loan money on Victory Bonds if we need cash.

. . . and for our future plans, we'll have the money required for things we want to do . . .

Get ready to buy more Victory Bonds this Fall. Buy double this time — the same rate of savings as in previous loans will pay for twice as many bonds over the 12 month period.

Formers Can Buy Victory Bonds On Convenient Deferred Payments Through Any Bank

... just sign a short form letter which Victory Loan Salesmen carry (banks have copies) ordering the Bank to buy Victory Bonds for you. Pay 5% when ordering and the balance at any time during the next 12 months. The interest the bonds earn pays the interest on the bank loan.

FORMER KING FARMER
DIES IN TORONTO

Born June 8, 1856, in King township, John Jarvis died at his home, 33 Sheridan Ave., Toronto, Sept. 7, after an illness of two weeks following a stroke. He married Ann Cutting, who predeceased him in 1910, in October, 1878.

Retired at the time of his death, Mr. Jarvis had previously been a farmer and latterly, a watchman for a Toronto furniture company. A member of the Methodist church, he belonged to the Orange Lodge but his chief interest remained in farming.

Surviving are three sons, George, John and Charles, and one daughter, Sarah Catherine Jarvis, one sister and three brothers.

Rev. A. W. Gould conducted the funeral services in Toronto and interment was in Kettleby.

The Era and Express office will be open Saturday afternoons from 2 to 4 for the convenience of out of town patrons.

THANK YOU

We wish to thank all our friends and patrons for their continued patronage. For 44 years we have served you to the best of our knowledge and hope that you will continue the same good will to our successor, Harvey A. Lane, who has purchased our business and takes possession on Monday, Oct. 15.

HYDRO provides fast, dependable
"Made to order"
SERVICE

Do you realize that Hydro power must be made to your order . . . made and delivered to you so quickly that it would seem to be always there? Electricity cannot be stored. It must be made within a tiny fraction of a second of the time it is used. The flow of water to the generators is controlled by sensitive automatic gates, so as to make only enough for the demands of the moment.

Whenever you flip a switch, you use electricity before the water which made it can leave the power house. Your order is received and filled faster than a good camera can wink its eye. Yet the power comes to you through a plant transformer station, a local distribution station, a small transformer near your home . . . all connected by many miles of transmission and distribution lines.

Millions of dollars worth of equipment and a multitude of watchful personnel stand ready to serve you at the touch of your finger on a switch at any moment of the day or night. That is what Ontario has learned to expect from Hydro service.

ONLY THIS ONE PART DEPENDS ON YOU

Your house must be adequately wired if you are to have full benefit from the electricity you may want to use. If your place is wired for a rough and a water heater, you can assume that you have enough wiring from the small transformer to your house. From there, be sure that you have enough circuits and plenty of outlets conveniently placed in every room. Remember that any one outlet can supply only a limited amount of power efficiently and safely. Remember, too, that you will want an ever-growing number of electrical conveniences in the years to come. The economical time to wire adequately is when you are building or making major alterations. Plan now for your electrical future by wiring completely.

DOWN THE CENTRE

With regret we report the official R.C.A.F. news that Brian Thompson, former Sutton-Aurora junior hockey player who was reported missing February 20 following the big raid on Dortmund, Germany, is now listed as "killed in action". Born at Jackson's Point and educated at Sutton, Brian played standout hockey for the Sutton juniors in 1940-41. He joined Aurora in 1942, the same year he enlisted. A sturdy lad who possessed speed and deadly shot, the Sutton boy was the storm centre of an argument in 1941 between Newmarket and Sutton. Attending school in Toronto, he played for the Redmen in the S.P.A. and when Bill Gilbey and Frank Courtney split in the committee room, young Thompson decided to stay with a weak Sutton team. The next year with Newmarket out and being employed in Weston, he joined the last Aurora junior club which we have always thought was the cream of junior C company that year despite the fact that Milton won out.

He graduated as a gunner at Summerside, P.E.I., in December, 1943, going overseas next March. He took part in 25 raids over enemy territory as well as being commissioned. A quiet, likeable lad, he was a clean, courageous player and his loss once again brings home all the horrors of war. Considering the vast number of North York athletes who answered the call to arms, we can all be thankful that the list of our missing comrades is no greater than it is.

Good news came of several North York athletes who have carried on overseas without much fanfare but have now been officially mentioned in dispatches for either courage or devotion to duty. Sgt. Clarence James, better known as "Fat" to Aurora and district hockey fans and "Jesse" to Woodbridge Mimico, is listed among the artillerymen who served with distinction. The big Bradford boy, one of five brothers to see service in the war, went overseas with Major Connie Smythe's 30th battery crew and has been in the thick of things since D-Day. He is still over there but should be home around Christmas.

Major Charlie Dales, brother of Mayor Lowell Dales of Newmarket, was one of the greatest shortstops ever to play baseball in these parts in his day and he was also a nifty centre ice man for Aurora and Toronto Varsity. "Chuck" left a good medical practice in Toronto in 1940 for the fray and he has seen plenty of action. He is now in England and we got quite a kick out of being the first one to announce the news to Brother Lowell (you can guess the Doc had a smile as big as a full moon) who is pretty fond of Brother Charlie. All we can say is it couldn't happen to a better fellow.

Lieut. Sherman Day, son of Bert "Lantern Jaw" of Metropolitan hockey fame who was killed in action, was also among those who were mentioned in dispatches. Lieut. A. B. A. Cane, formerly of Newmarket and well known in inter-school sport, was also mentioned.

Speaking of inter-school sport, it is now quite definite that there will be no big interscholastic track meet this year for the A. J. G. Eckhardt trophy. The schools will definitely go to work on the matter in 1946 however. Meanwhile there appears to be a rift in the secondary school sports lute. Markham high school enters a new track and field circuit this year with a combined meet between Markham, Stouffville and Agincourt set for October 17. According to those down south, the three schools are pretty well matched for competition and Markham is not a much bigger school than the others. Except for one or two years, Markham was never a serious contender for the Eckhardt trophy but it should be on fairly equal footing right now. It is perhaps better to exclude Markham and confine the meet to Richmond Hill, Aurora and Newmarket from the point of view of geography. If a fourth school is required, Bradford high school could probably fill the bill.

Kid sports receives another big boost tonight when Aurora Lions club will banquet both Aurora midget and bantam baseball teams in the Masonic Hall. The Aurora kids are actually the uncrowned district bantam champs as the Stouffville kids whom they handled with ease all season could not make the arrangements necessary for the league finals. We don't think there would have been any doubt as to the outcome. The banquet is a nice reward for the youngsters and the Lions are to be congratulated.

Columbus Boys, who ousted the York Lions in the O.B.A. bantam semi-finals, were in turn eliminated by Welland in a hectic series. Welland now meets Waterloo pee-wees in the finals. In view of the late date and the amount of travelling necessary to annex a championship, it is perhaps just as well for this season at least the kids didn't go any further than they did. Huck Caesar, who coached Collingwood midgets this season, was honored by the kids with a present when the Collingwood Progress club banqueted the team. We always like to see the boys remember the poor old coach who is so often forgotten after it is all over both by the players and the fans. Caesar has been also playing for Thornbury in intermediate O.B.A. playdowns.

Newmarket camp soccer team, who finished a bang-up second in the T. and D. senior series, have hung up their cleats for the year and R.S.M. Sydney Bowman is now enjoying a belated furlough. The No. 23 eleven was eliminated by the fourth place Bowser A.C. team in a three-game series. The first two games were draws and the clincher was won by the Toronto team by the odd goal in three. The soldier boys were a bit disappointed but they can take pride in their fine record.

Whitey Bone, former Aurora junior defence ace and lately a blueline basher for Zephyr Blues, is shaking North York dust from his feet and going north to South Porcupine. Gordy is still a pretty fair player and figures on getting in a lot of hockey. He hopes to renew acquaintances with Sparky Vail, Red McArthur and other ex-Newmarket Redmen in the district. Bone is 24 now so he should have several years of crowd-pleasing hockey left and the north country style is right down his alley.

Lorne O'Dell, Sutton softballer and netminder, expects to be discharged from the navy soon and will be back for duty with Ellis Pringle. Lorne, now a chief petty officer, was the first Sutton boy to join the navy and from 1941 sailed the briny, crossing the Atlantic many times and touching Murmansk in Russia. Jack Wheeler, once the ace defenceman of Newmarket camp, has decided to play his hockey right in his native Collingwood this winter or possibly with Owen Sound Mohawks in senior. He has re-habilitated himself quickly, opening a body and fender business as well as taxi-cab service and according to all reports, doing all right for himself. Bun White, who was a member of that good Brampton camp hockey team which Major Art Adams and Capt. Bing Caswell rounded up two years ago to take the district services title, has been discharged and will play hockey back in Owen Sound this winter. Bun will also be available for Piper Bain's 1946

Mann Cup contenders.

Lennie Wadsworth, once the pride of Newmarket camp and chief boxing instructor, is picking up the blue chips in a ring comeback these days. Still Canada's professional middleweight champ, the lumbering Wadsworth fought a stinkeroo in Buffalo last week against Johnny Clark of New York and last night was booked to meet Holman Williams, "the uncrowned 160-pound king", whose dusky hands possess lethal potentialities. Wadsworth is down to 155 pounds but we feel he would be wiser to go back to mining than to become a palooka. Incidentally, Baby Yack, who was once at Newmarket camp where his actions weren't calculated to win friends or influence people after a sojourn at Monteith, is back at District Depot and has one hook once more.

Maple is to have an open air rink in its well-located park this winter. The Young Men's club of the village, headed by Cal Miller of lacrosse fame, has the backing of both the village trustees and the Vaughan council, will build a dressing room as well as seeing the rink is well lighted. In the spring the cushion will be readied for box-lacrosse which is popular with old and young alike. Eventually they hope to build a covered rink in the park. With King City already booked for an outdoor rink, it looks like a lot of fun for country cousins and as you can see, postwar projects for the community are more and more turning to sport.

Mel Rogers, who played defence for Aurora Pepsis back in 1941 and never quite showed his true playing ability, has been discharged from the army after three years of service and is back in civilian life in West Toronto. Doug James, who coached Markham juniors last winter, has returned to Markham after a trip overseas for his war bride and will once again be at the helm of the Markies. They held their first organization meeting on Monday of this week.

Dinty Hodgins, Stouffville hardballer who has been serving with the navy, is home on 60 days' leave and expects to be discharged at the end of that time. Dinty has a nice grocery business awaiting him in his home town and he will be a valuable addition to its sporting fraternity. Alex. Sandalack, who two years ago was the defence ace of the T. and S. team in the C.A.C. group and last winter was the pick of the Camp Borden rearguards, reported this week to Lester Patrick and the Rangers at Winnipeg. "Sandy", formerly of Regina Rangers, should be a surefire starter for Lester Patrick.

Herbie Cain, the pride of Newmarket, also packed his bag and left for the Manitoba capital for another whirl in the bigtime, this year with the Rangers. Herbie should fit in nicely with Patrick's plans and no doubt in securing the veteran Newmarket player, Lester had in mind the fact that Cain can lend a hand with the many young players who will be trying out for the first time and also those coming back from the services who will be trying to pick up things where they left off. Best wishes for a successful season will follow (Page 8, Col. 1)

HONOR ROLL UNVEILED
AT VICTORIA SQUARE

Rev. Roy Hicks gave the address on Sunday afternoon when an honor roll was unveiled and dedicated at Victoria Square United church in an impressive ceremony. Rev. A. J. MacKay, the pastor of the church, did the unveiling. Forty-nine young men and women of the congregation went on active service and of these, two paid the supreme sacrifice and a third is still reported as missing.

CHURCHES FULL
FOR SERVICES
GIVING THANKS

All Aurora churches were crowded to capacity on Sunday as Aurorians gave thanks for the first peacetime Thanksgiving Day in seven years and for the blessings of a bountiful harvest and the return of loved ones.

At Trinity Anglican church, Group Capt. G. O. Lightbourn, senior R.C.A.F. padre, former pastor of Trinity church, preached the sermon, and with Canon F. J. Fife administered Holy Communion to several hundred communicants. In his sermon Mr. Lightbourn recalled different services of Thanksgiving he had attended overseas.

Herbie who summered well, and was one of the leading players at the Highlands Golf club.
Art Kessell, former Markham junior hockeyist, received a discharge after a lengthy stint with the R.C.A.F. to enable him to go back to school and he is now enrolled in a course at Ontario Agricultural College. Sgt. Aub Manson of Newmarket, who has just returned to Camp Borden following a tour of duty with Canada's Pacific instructional cadre at Fort Benning, Georgia, tried his hand at softball and baseball with considerable success after some years inactivity. The Canadian instructors cleaned up at softball and then took the measure of an all-American soldier team at baseball to the surprise of the Yanks. Aub was in action in the outfield and along with the rest of the Canucks they got a tremendous lift out of defeating the Americans. According to Aub, you're never any older than you feel.

Young Leafs, who have operated successfully in minor hockey the past few years, are also moving up to the junior B field. They will have a working arrangement with Toronto Marlboros and expect to again receive some financial support from John Stuart who aided the team last winter. Victory Aircraft and Marlboros have forsaken the junior B field this winter. The complete picture will not be known for a few weeks yet but those who intend to ice teams this winter should lose no time in getting things ready to go else they will be in for some surprises. Playing equipment will be really at a premium this winter. While firms are getting the go sign to change over to peacetime production, a lot of needed materials will not be available for some months and there is a brisk demand. One of Toronto's leading dealers showed us a heavy sheaf of orders placed as early as last spring. Hockey skates, boots and sticks just aren't available right now. Sweaters, too, are at a premium. That again means immediate organization and the placing of orders for what is needed without delay. With luck you may have what you need in time. Need we say more?

Les Beazer is anxious to learn about the possibilities of intermediate hockey in the district and those interested should get in touch with him.

Explanation: To our friends and readers we would like to point out that this column, because of printing problems, is written Sunday of each week and set on Monday. That means that any news we receive after that date unless it is "stop the press" news goes over into another week. It also means we must occasionally give a re-hash of things. Sometimes, by reason of policy, we are also unable to use bits of information we receive. Somehow or other we can't get used to wielding a hatchet. We know it makes for readers but in six years we have not had to scalp many and we think time bears out our contention. We have never hesitated in calling a spade a spade and don't intend to do so from here in. Keep the news rolling in and we'll deal with any matters you specifically want us to touch upon. Thanks gang!

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW ABOUT Purina Chek-R-Ton
(Easy to use flock treatment)

GROWING PULLETS, laying hens, and growing turkeys often need a "lift" about now, to keep them coming full speed ahead. Mixing Purina Chek-R-Ton in their mash, a "flock treatment" for one week, gives them that lift.
It's easy to administer—since all you have to do after mixing is to give them their feed as usual. It's economical—costs only about 2½ cents per bird. And it makes a real difference in the way they take hold.

Knocks out large round worms. Improves appetites. Regulates bowel action. Adds Vitamins B and C. Helps birds snap back after coccidiosis, enteritis, or blackhead—not a cure, but helps speed up recovery.

Remember!

AFTER READING the first two pages of THE HIGH BARBARIE you become aware of the fact that you have come under the spell of a pair of very competent story-tellers.
 Charles Nordhoff and James Norman
 Hall collaborated to write MUTINY ON THE BOUNTY and in this they tell the story of what became of the surviving flyers of a Catalina Flying Boat forced down one hundred miles off a Pacific island marked on the official maps as "Existence Doubtful." With the subtlety of craftsmen, the writers have made their characters as convincing as any couple of normal young flyers you know, and from there have woven a tale of adventure and fantasy which is doubtless destined to become a classic of our times. McClelland and Stewart.

HAS THIS EVER HAPPENED
 TO YOU? These windy fall days bring trouble with garage doors banging shut... a complication which usually takes place just when one is backing the car out or driving in. You can do away with this annoyance and the expense of unsightly or scraped fenders by install a neat, overhead lift-up type of attachment ON YOUR OLD DOORS. This new method costs far less than you might imagine possible for such a new and convenient garage door set, only $15.00. The name of the set, "LIFT-EZE" Garage Door Hardware, and it is made by that ultra-conservative and reliable firm, Eastern Steel Products Limited, Preston, Toronto and Montreal. They'll be glad to send you further information if you drop them a line.

DESIGNED TO "SAVE YOUR FACE" when a big date appears at a hour's warning. Du Barry Rose Cream Mask is fragrant, velvety cream developed for the purpose of making the face soft as satin and giving it a look of firm new youth.
 Spread the mask as smoothly as possible over the face and throat, using an upward and outward sweep, then lie down and relax for fifteen or twenty minutes. The stimulating qualities of this mask are soothing, and it dries it "sets" the face, lightening temporary fatigue lines and bringing to the complexion a refreshing glow.

COUNTER IRRITATION is the tried and accepted method of relieving pain resulting from muscular soreness. This counter irritation may be supplied by application of heat over by patting on of Sloan's Liniment where the pain is troublesome.
 There is nothing more about the easiness and comfort which follow either method. The effect is simply a natural relaxing of nervous tensity in the affected part which is brought about by stimulated circulation. Heat applied locally or Sloan's Liniment will sum up on circulation re-inforcement to drive away the pain.
 There is more Sloan's Liniment in Canada than any other liniment.

AND REMEMBER! You'll feel WARMER this winter if you support the National Clothes Collection of used clothes for the destitute people of Europe.
